

Catherine Huckaby

Community Engagement
Strategist & Speaker

Catherine Huckaby serves as Executive Director of Engagement EDGE Resources and manages Community Positive, a volunteer-led project spotlighting the heroes behind community transformation nationwide. Her proven expertise spans local government, nonprofits, and faith-based organizations, delivering measurable results in volunteer management, partnership building, and community engagement initiatives.

Catherine delivers practical frameworks that model how to rebuild meaningful connections and create lasting change. Her message: great communities aren't built on blueprints—they're created by people who transform "someone should" into "I will," and when we celebrate the impact of these everyday heroes, more people are inspired to step up to make a difference.
